Reindeer Cupcakes

Bake cupcakes according to package directions and frost generously with chocolate frosting. Top with pretzels for the antlers, a Nilla Wafer for the face, white frosting dots for the eyes, back pearl sprinkles or black icing for the eyeballs, and brown and red candies for the nose.

Minute To Win It

If you're looking for a fun party idea consider hosting a "Minute to Win it" party. "Minute to Win it" is a low stress, fun way to have a party.

The television version of the game makes hosting a "Minute to Win it" party fairly simple. You can do most of the preparation in advance so on the day of the party there is very little last minute running around.

The first step to planning a "Minute to Win it" party is to select the games or challenges you want to include. Go to the "Minute to Win it" website and search for games by Name, Most Viewed or Most Popular. Use this link to go to the website.

<http://www.nbc.com/minute-to-win-it/>

After choosing the games download the instructions included on the website. For instance, for our party we played "Hanky Panky". You find the video of those instructions here-

<http://www.nbc.com/minute-to-win-it/how-to/episode-120/hanky-panky/>

Using these videos makes explaining the rules of the game easy- you just play the video!

We also downloaded a video clock so that we didn't need to use a clock or timer- we just started the video.

Having this video timer made the competition fun for everyone- spectators and competitors.

Box Lunches

In the early days of the old west to raise money, communities would have a box lunch social or picnic. Girls would make a lunch for two people and put it in a box that they would decorate in a special way. The boxes were then auctioned off and the highest bidder would get the lunch and would get to eat lunch with the young lady. Bidders had to use their imagination to figure out what was in the box.

If a girl had a special, young man she wanted to eat lunch with she would secretly give him a clue about what her box looked like. Back in the day when wages were a dollar a day, a maximum bid would be 10 cents a box.

At our reunion, the girls designed and decorated their boxes at home. We provided sandwich fixin's, individual chip packages, fruit snacks and drink boxes along with cookies for dessert. The girls made lunches for two and put them in their box. We gave each box a number and the guys in the family each drew a number out of hat to determine which lunch they got to eat and which girl they ate lunch with. In a few instances, we had more girls than guys and so doubled up. What a great way to get to know your family!

Pie Irons

Use some creativity. Add whatever ingredients you want to your pie. Add pizza sauce, cheese, and pepperoni and make a pizza pie. Toss together some eggs, ham, and cheese and you'll have an omelet pie. Add some cherry pie filling and make a cherry pie.

Pie Iron Fruit Pies

Instructions

☐ Step 1

Build a campfire. Pie Iron pies do best over a hot bed of coals. Try start your campfire an hour early to let it burn down.

☐ Step 2

Butter one side of each slice of bread. Place one slice, butter side down, in one half of the pie iron.

☐ Step 3

Put a spoonful of pie filling in the center of the bread slice. Keep the filling away from the edges, as it may leak while the pie is cooking.

☐ Step 4

Place the second slice of bread, buttered side up, on top of the pie filling.

☐ Step 5

Place the second half of the pie iron on the bottom half, squeezing the bread and filling together. Latch the two halves of the iron together, to keep it from opening up while the pie is cooking.

☐ Step 6

Place the pie iron over the campfire, and let it cook for several minutes (4-6 minutes). Turn the pie over, and check for doneness. The pie is done when both sides are golden brown and toasted.

☐ Step 7

Put the pie on a plate. If you have crispy edges you may want to carefully trim them. Be careful, as the filling is HOT! Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and enjoy!

Rocky Road Treat

Spread peanut butter on 2 slices of bread. Add one large marshmallow and one chocolate bar square between buttered bread slices/ Toast in cooker until bread is golden brown.

French Toast

Dip 2 bread slices into egg batter, place both slices into cooker, placing fruit jam between bread slices. Toast until browned.

Sloppy Joes

Use canned, pre-cooked sloppy Joe mix or make your own mix with hamburger, barbecue sauce and onion. (Meat must be precooked.) Place mix between buttered bread and cook over low heat until hot and toasty.

Garlic Bread

Spread inside of burger buns with butter and sprinkle with garlic salt and paprika. Turn each bun inside out and place into cooker cavity. Grill until golden brown.

Pie Iron Pizza

Butter one side of two slices of bread. Place one slice of bread into the pie iron with the butter side down. Spread pizza sauce over the bread, and add your favorite pizza toppings such as pepperoni, cheese, mushrooms, onions, and peppers. After all the toppings are on, place another slice of bread on top with the butter side up. Close your pie iron and place it over your campfire to cook for about 4 minutes on each side. Be sure to flip your pie iron over halfway through cooking.

April Fools Pizza Cake

Bake your cakes according to the package directions. Don't fill your pan any fuller than 1/3 full. You don't want the cake to go up over the edge of the pan. You're looking for a large round flat cake.

Frost cake with red frosting. If you are using canned frosting heat for a few seconds in the microwave to make it spread easier.

Grate white chocolate and sprinkle the shredded white chocolate on top of frosting.

Cut circles out of red fruit roll ups for the pepperoni, use a small bottle cap to get the round shape. It's easier if you cut the fruit roll ups before you remove them from their backing. After you cut your pepperoni, remove the backing and stick them on the pizza.

Make banana peppers by slicing a thin strip of a yellow fruit roll up. Stick the ends of the strip together to make a loop.

To make onions, pineapple and green peppers roll gum drops or gummy candy until flat and cut into small bits.

Make black olives with black gum drips and use a paper punch to make a hole in the middle.

Serve your "pizza" on a pizza pan or a pizza box.

Pipe Chimes

Making music with pipe chimes is an easy and inexpensive way to have fun with your family. My Mom saw pipe chimes more than thirty years ago and our family has been making music with conduit pipes ever since. Because pipe chimes are easy to make and easy to play, pipe chimes are perfect for family reunions, parties and church groups. Anyone can play pipe chimes- no musical experience necessary! So here are familyreunionhelper.com's tongue in cheek top ten reasons to play pipe chimes!

Top Ten Reasons to Learn to Play Pipe Chimes

10. A pipe chime doubles as a game piece in an over- sized Clue game.
9. American Idol now lets you use an instrument.
8. Studies show that the resonating tones of pipe chimes stimulates hair follicles which encourages hair growth.
7. Chuck Norris plays pipe chimes.
6. Pipe chime playing is good for your hands. I probably have stronger hands/fingers than most people I know. And have you ever noticed the hands of a pianist? Beautiful, long, tapered fingers. Chances are that if you've ever admired someone's hands, they play the piano... or pipe chimes.
5. Playing pipe chimes helps you burn calories. A 155 pound person burns 281 calories in an hour of pipe chime playing.
4. You can join the AFPOPCP - The association for the preservation of pipe chime playing.
3. People will automatically assume you're a genius. Really, I've heard this a lot. People uttering "He/she plays the pipe chimes" in the same tone reserved for "He/she has an IQ of 180." You just can't help but admire someone that plays an instrument.
2. Colleges like musical instruments on applications--it's never too early to boost your kid's qualifications! Hundreds of college scholarships for Pipe Chime playing go unclaimed each year.

And the number one reason to play pipe chimes...

1. Self-defense!

But seriously... Pipe chimes are perfect for your family reunion or family get- together. With our easy to follow instructions and thirteen fun chimes songs, there's no reason to miss out on the musical fun of conduit pipe chimes! We don't sell pipe chimes but on our site you can find complete instructions for making your own music pipe chimes and printable music at familyreunionhelper.com
